

STRUT CHANNELS

This channel is manufactured to provide an ideal mechanical support frame for a variety of operations, it is a great beginning point for installing electrical cable or pipe management systems. The other variants enable easy installation and secures the product into concrete. Our Struts & Fittings are of the greatest capacity in the market. Our products are specially designed to hold heavier loads, maximize the span between supports, and enable attachment on the top and bottom. This helps us significantly save material and labor cost
